How warm - hot should trailer bearings get - The Hull Truth Aug 2, 2005 — Hub should be no warmer than the sidewall of the tire -- or atleast not by much. Franco2boat , 08-02-2005 08:37 AM. Senior Member Troubleshooting Overheating Hubs on a Trailer With New My 8inch hub runs quite hot even with new bearings Timkin and fresh grease. Hubs will heat up when driving, but if it feels like they are getting too hot, then you a trailer and how the spindle nut should be tightened to prevent over heating

How warm should hubs feel? When to worry - Jayco RV Jul 8, 2013 — I got the trailer last summer and previous to that it sat unused for 3 to retain heat and get hotter than just packing the bearings themselves How hot is "hot" on wheel bearings? - T@B Forum Oct 11, 2019 — is "hot"? If they get too hot, besides letting them cool down, then what? Does that mean you have to grease your bearings before moving? I'm afraid Many trailer folks worry about that without understanding what "hot" is
